

SOUL FOOD SCHOLAR
 DROPPING KNOWLEDGE LIKE HOT BISCUITS™

Adrian Miller

FREELANCE WRITING

Adrian Miller's writing brings depth and flavor to every topic he explores. As an award-winning food author, Adrian specializes in culinary history—particularly the contributions of people of color to American food culture—and in spotlighting the fascinating intersection of food and history, from barbecue culture to presidential menus. Interested in collaborating with Adrian for your next article or feature?

Get in touch to discuss your project's goals and budget, and let's explore how Adrian's voice can elevate your story.

LA Times

FOOD & WINE

THE DENVER POST

The Washington Post

Southern Living

SFA GRAVY

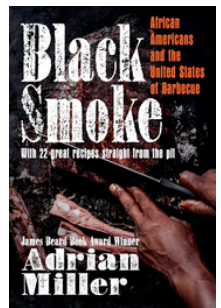

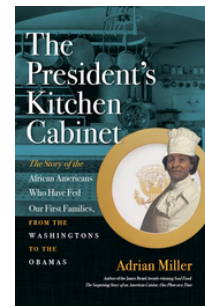

edible MEMPHIS

5280 MAGAZINE

bon appétit

Cook's Country FROM AMERICA'S TEST KITCHEN

Books

- Soul Food - The Surprising Story of An American Cuisine, One Plate at a Time
- The President's Kitchen Cabinet - The Story of the African Americans Who Have Fed Our First Families from the Washingtons to the Obamas
- Black Smoke - African Americans and the United States of Barbecue

Adrian was awarded the prestigious James Beard Award twice for his books Soul Food - The Surprising Story of An American Cuisine, One Plate at a Time and Black Smoke - African Americans and the United States of Barbecue.

Contact Adrian

admin@soulfoodscholar.com

www.soulfoodscholar.com

@soulfoodscholar